RESOLUTION

Dispute Resolution

From the onset the VDI team has been successfully representing its clients, individuals and legal entities, before the competent authorities and courts.

The cases assigned to our Firm vary in subject and level of difficulty, ranging from civil disputes to complex commercial cases of major economic interest. We also have in-depth knowledge of corporate matters with a commitment to problem-solving, which allows us to offer a complete and profound representation of our clients in relevant dispute resolution procedure.

The outcome of the cases we work on has contributed several times to the formation of new legal principles and changes in case-law, as well as in the establishment of precedent in undecided legal matters.
